Telecommuting is one of the most important career trends today. Thanks to fast internet, many employees now manage (1) _____ their work from home instead of travelling to an office. Many workers say that working from home is (2) _____ better than spending an hour in traffic every day, and companies also save money on office space. Today, most meetings (3) _____ online, so people can talk to colleagues in other countries. However, there are drawbacks. Working alone can feel lonely, and it is sometimes difficult to separate work from family life. Some people miss their colleagues, (4) _____ others find it hard to stop working in the evening. In a recent survey, most workers told the researcher that they (5) _____ never go back to the office full-time. Employers also say that outsourcing some tasks to other countries gives them access to talented staff at lower prices. Experts advise employees to upgrade their skills and stay flexible, because job security is not what it used to be in today's changing workforce.

Cloze 2 · Outsourcing and Globalization

10 marks

Read the text and choose the correct word(s) to complete the sentences. Choose A, B or C. 2 marks each

Globalization has changed the way companies operate. Thanks to modern technology, a worker in one country can easily communicate with a team on the other side of the world. Many firms are now considering (1) _____ some of their work to other countries, a practice known as outsourcing. India, (2) _____ has a large number of skilled workers, is a popular choice. Right now, thousands of customer calls (3) _____ in call centres abroad. (4) _____ outsourcing reduces costs, it can also threaten job security at home, and local employees fear that their jobs may disappear. For this reason, learning new skills is (5) _____ essential for every member of the workforce. Many experts suggest that workers should be flexible and keep upgrading their abilities throughout their careers. This trend is likely to continue. In the long run, the companies that adapt quickly will be the ones that succeed in a competitive global market, and workers who do the same will find it easier to get a good position.
